A Note From

The Town Clerk's Desk

Glorious sunshine, blue skies and another long bank holiday weekend to look forward to. The low hum of lawn mowers, the sweet smell of freshly cut grass, Wimbledon around the corner (Can Andy Murray make it two Wimbledon titles?) and thoughts turning to perhaps a well-deserved summer holiday break...

Surely, it is part of the British way of life that while June, July and August are more often than not washed away in howling gale force 10 winds and torrential, monsoon status rain, we need only have to experience even the most modest rise in the temperature for longer than a day and, suddenly, everyone behaves as if we regularly live in the tropics. Hedge End suddenly becomes a sunshine paradise, with gardens populated by paddling pools, afternoon siestas and the air heavy with the aroma of barbecues.

The Summer season is most people's favourite, especially those people whose school terms have just come to an end for the gloriously stretching next six weeks, so full of possibilities and with good reason too. Summer is a time of exploration, though it is not necessary to travel very far to discover most. Summer is the healthiest time of year. People tend to eat less and more healthily than usual, take more exercise and have more time too. Rates of everything from heart disease to violent crime fall at this time of year. Summer's warmth, its light and its freedom make it the best and most celebratory – or the least miserable, if you still insist - of the seasons. In many ways, thanks to its festivals, sports and holiday opportunities, Summer has all the advantages that the other seasons lack.

Yet, summer sometimes surprisingly struggles to compete with the other seasons for its hold on the imagination. Winter often has greater drama than summer. Spring generates more optimism. Autumn lends itself more naturally to reflection on the passing of the years. It isn't true that summer lacks all drama, optimism or reflection. Few things are more overwhelming than a long summer's day. Nothing seems more timeless than the countryside full of heat. The amount of reading that takes place in the Summer hardly implies that minds are duller at this time of year.

There is certainly no lack of things to undertake in Hedge End during the long summer holiday this year. Have a game of tennis on the newly refurbished tennis courts at

Woodhouse Lane and take advantage of having easy access to booking the tennis courts on-line by purchasing a family key fob for just £30.00 a year and play as many times as you like (subject to availability and certain restrictions). The ever popular paddling pool at the Recreation Ground offers the chance for your children to enjoy themselves whilst you can relax and enjoy refreshments at the paddling pool café.

Woodhouse Lane

Alternatively, go for a walk and enjoy the hidden delights Hedge End has to offer. I know you will be pleasantly surprised!

At the time of writing this editorial, the Eurovision Song Contest is about to start and I will be ensconced in front of the TV cheering on our UK entry!

I hope you have a great Summer and let's hope the weather obliges with the glorious sunshine and blue skies that I alluded to at the beginning of this editorial!

See you in the Autumn.

Tree Warden's Report | New Music Makers

TREE WARDEN'S REPORT

As I walk and drive around Hedge End, it is a joy to see that the colours on the trees and shrubs are so prominent. We were lucky this year, as we had so very few frosts which meant the camellia blossoms were not foreshortened as so often happens.

The magnolias in some of the gardens also fared well. I was treated to a grand display with the pink of the cherry trees on the sides of the roads and the fruit trees in people's gardens.

Due to the mild winter weather, there have been carpets of English bluebells. Unfortunately, in many areas around the country they are under threat from the Spanish variety of bluebell. In some places, hybrids are now being found.

The trees in and around Hedge End look healthy, although there are a couple under observation by the ground staff who check their condition from time to time.

The horse chestnut trees are now in bloom and showing their whitish blossoms. The wood is weak and not widely used, but it's absorbent properties make it ideal for fruit racks and storage trays as it keeps the fruit dry and so, prevents rotting. As to the wildlife value of the tree, its nuts provide food for deer and other mammals and its flowers provide pollen for insects. There are other varieties of horse chestnut tree, but they are not so common. The Ohio buckeye has a similar look and has pinkie red flowers and the Indian horse chestnut (Sydney Pearce) has blossoms that look half way between the other two and the leaves are longer and of a different shape.

NEW MUSIC MAKERS CELEBRATE 10TH ANNIVERSARY OF YOU TUBE

The New Music Makers choir, based in Hedge End, don't do things by halves. Indeed, not only did they enter the Karl Jenkins worldwide 'Sing Motets' competition, but in May, they also recorded and uploaded their entry on the very day of the 10th anniversary of You Tube. Great fun was had by all during the videoing, plus the choir got to sing their favourite piece by Karl Jenkins, 'Cantate Domino'.

Such a global medium as You Tube enabled choirs from all over the world to enter the competition, which involved singing one of Karl Jenkins' motets and uploading it. The lucky winning choir will have a new piece of music written for them by Karl Jenkins and they will be taken to New York to perform it for the first time.

Anyone who loves singing can come along to the New Music Makers on a Thursday evening from 7.30pm to 10pm at the Methodist Church, St John's Road, Hedge End, to see what a sociable and enjoyable time we have and indeed join in with the singing. We attract singers from all over the south Hampshire region and have a good age mix throughout all sections of the choir. There is no need to be able to read music, as we use an online player facility which plays each part to be sung. New members can also be assured of friendly support by the choir. For more details, please contact the Membership Secretary on 07969321459 or contact us via our website:

St Johns Church Wildlife Haven & Peace Garden

There is an almost secret place near the centre of Hedge End that most people probably don't even know exists. Many people will recognise St John's Church by its prominent spire, but if you go behind the church and down the hill, you come upon the Wildlife Haven and Peace Garden...

The Wildlife Haven is a natural area of land which has been allowed to flourish with wildflowers, bird boxes, a wood pile for little creatures and a boardwalk along a small pond. There is also a rockery and a wildlife area.

The Peace Garden is a quiet area where people who are troubled or bereaved can sit and find comfort among the lovely flowers.

It all began in 2003, when expert advice and help was obtained from Eastleigh Borough Council and their Countryside Development Officer. They also provided a team of volunteers to get things started.

Snowdrops

Since then, the Wildlife Haven and Peace Garden are both maintained by volunteers from Hedge End.

Bird boxes, wood piles & bug houses encourage wildlife...

These are mainly from St John's Church, but Mrs Allison Neasom at Wildern School often brings along students to help out. Anyone and everyone is welcome, children are encouraged as a way of getting them to experience nature first-hand. We are always looking for an extra pair of hands to help out at one of our work days, held on occasional Saturdays from March through October, organised by Chris White, Wildlife Haven Co-ordinator (Phone: 01489 783204) who heads our committee and plans our activities.

If the garden is not your thing, but relaxing in a quiet, peaceful setting is, then by all means, visit. Most areas are easily accessible by wheelchairs, there is no gate or any barrier whatsoever. Take a book and sit on one of the benches, or just sit back and contemplate the dragonflies, bumblebees and butterflies.

Hamble Valley Rotary Club AED Donation

Hamble Valley Rotary Club have been involved in some heart-felt fund raising recently. Their chosen project has been to purchase and provide defibrillators in the local area for use in the event of a heart attack...

The Christmas Carol float and other events organised by Hamble Valley Rotary Club, generated enough money to donate four Automated External Defibrillators (AED). They are now situated at:

- GRETA PARK, UPPER NORTHAM ROAD
- HEDGE END BOWLING CLUB, WOODHOUSE LANE
- CURDRIDGE READING ROOMS
- QE2 CENTRE AT MANOR FARM COUNTRY PARK

and all are ready to use 24/7.

The defibrillator is designed to control heart fibrillation (regular rhythm). By application of the apparatus, an electric current restores regularity. The current is delivered through pads applied to the chest wall and the shock is delivered. Lay responders or bystanders are able to use defibrillators because the unit will talk you through the procedure.

In the event of a suspected heart attack, 999 should be dialled and the Emergency Services will direct the first aider or relative to the nearest AED unit and stay on the phone to guide you through the procedure, at the same time as directing an ambulance to the scene. Full details of how to use the AED appears in this edition of the Gazette (over leaf). Please pull it out and keep it somewhere prominent as these units have been known to save lives.

Rotary are dedicated to helping people and charities both at home and abroad. As well as fund raising, there are plenty of social events and fun to be had working together for the benefit of others. If you feel you could use your talents to further the aims of this international organisation and would like to learn more, please contact David Holt on 01489 782016.

HEDGE END TOWN COUNCIL AED INSTALLATIONS

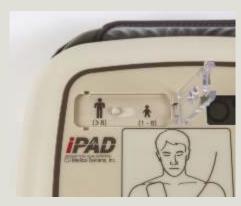

Hedge End Town Council has also installed an AED at 2000 Centre, St Johns Rd, Hedge End, SO30 4AF. Future plans include two further AED installations, in partnership with Eastleigh Borough Council, at Norman Rodaway Pavilion, Heath House Lane and the Drummond Community Centre, Drummond Road.

LIFE SAVING EMERGENCY EQUIPMENT

A nominated device of the British Heart Foundation

Lift the switch cover and set the adult/child selection switch to match the casualty. If the casualty is a child, there is no need to use different electrode pads.

If it is suspected the casualty is a child aged between 1 and 8 years old, the dual adult/child pads can be used with the switch selection set to the child mode.

Press the green on/off button. The voice prompts will start. prepare the casualty. Follow all the voice prompts.

This will commence with a beep, followed by:

1. "Call Emergency Medical Services now".

2. "Plug the pads connector in to the device" (pads are usually pre-connected so may not be heard)

3. "Adult mode" or "paediatric mode" (this is confirmation of switch selection)

4."follow the voice prompts calm ly'

Use the AED starter kit to Voice prompts continue:

5. "Remove all clothing from chest and stomach. Rip clothing if necessary"

Prepare the device:

6. "Tear open the pads packaging"

pads to casualty illustrated on the pads. The visual indicator on the device The will also light up to illustrate where to stick the pads.

Voice prompts continue:

7. "Look closely at the picture on each pad"

8. "Peel off the pad labelled '1' and stick to the bare skin of the patient, exactly as shown in the picture"

9. "Peel off the pad labelled '2' andstick to the bare skin of the patient, exactly as shown in the picture" as The device will light up to ensure no-one is touching the casualty. The iPAD SP1 will analyse the casualty's heart rhythm and assess if a shock is necessary.

Voice prompts continue:

11. "Do not touch the patient" 12. "Analysing heart rhythm"

AED User Guide - Pull Out & Keel

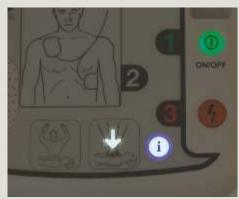

- 13. "shock advised, stand clear
- 14. "press the orange button now"
- 15. "deliver shock now"
- 16. "shock delivered"

If no shock is advised, even if you press the orange shock button, there is no way the device can deliver a shock.

Voice prompt will say:

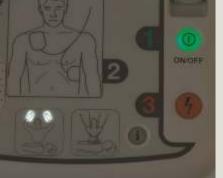

- 17. "no shock advised"
- 18. "be sure Emergency Medical Services have been called"
- 19. "you may touch the patient"
- 20. "begin CPR now"
- 21. "press the flashing blue i button for CPR voice prompt"

If a shock has been delivered, the i button will flash blue and can be pressed for CPR voice prompt.

The voice prompt is set to guide CPR at a ratio of 30 chest compressions: 2 breaths for 2 minutes. The voice prompt is a beat sound and the word breathe:

- 22. "press the flashing blue i button for CPR voice prompt" 23."beat" (30)
- 24. "breathe" (2)

The device will then go through the same process to re-analyse the casualty's heart rhythm and advise if another shock is advisable or not.

Continue to follow the voice prompts until medical help was not pressed, during the 2 minutes of CPR, the voice prompts will advise the time remaining until the heart rhythm of the casualty will be re-analysed:

25. "re-analysing heart rhythm in 2 minutes" 26. "re-analysing heart rhythm in 1 minute"

27. "re-analysing heart rhythm in 40 seconds"

28. "re-analysing heart rhythm in 20 seconds"

A Day in the Life of... Rawlings Opticians, Hedge End

Rawlings Opticians has been a well-respected and familiar sight in the centre of Hedge End for over 20 years. Rawlings have been successfully testing, correcting and improving the eyesight of Hedge End residents for so many years that we thought it only fair that we 'focused' on them for a change! We met with Simon Cabell, Optometrist at Rawlings to learn more about his work and his 'vision' for the future...

How has business been?

We have always been a busy practice and recently has been no different. We have a lot of very loyal patients and pride ourselves on the high level of service that we provide.

Can you give us an outline of your typical day at Rawlings?

We routinely see about 14 people a day for appointments. This includes eye care for children and contact lenses, as well as routine eye examinations. We have a great team of Dispensing Opticians that specialise in all types of eyewear, including all the innovative lenses and sports eyewear that is available today.

What is the most important thing you do each day?

Each and every eye examination is important. In the half an hour appointment, I carefully examine the patients eyes to ensure that they are healthy, which includes screening for conditions such as glaucoma. I check that the muscles are working properly and determine any prescription requirements. Sometimes a visual field test is required to check the peripheral vision and a retinal photograph to get a more detailed look at the back of the eye.

What should we be doing to take care of our eyes?

Regular eye examinations really are the best thing with UV protection for your eyes all year round. We cannot always tell when our eyes get worse and need a little more help, especially for children. A varied diet with lots of fruit and vegetables also aids our eye health, as there are a lot of vital vitamins that are proven to fight against diseases.

Do activities such as watching TV, playing computer games, surfing the web really have an impact on our eye sight?

These activities do not harm our eyes but the biggest impact on our vision is the effect of blue light that is emitted from any electronic screen. Blue light is a natural occurrence as it is present in daylight and helps us to stay awake, however over exposure can lead to eye strain, fatigue and sleeplessness due to its high intensity.

Are there things we can do to help improve our eyesight?

As well as regular eye care, it is also worth considering the options available on your eyewear. For instance, a well-fitting frame is important so that the optical centre of the lens is in the right position giving the optimum vision. There are also many different lens designs and coatings available to give the clearest vision. Plus do not forget the importance of protecting your eyes from UV damage, up to half a person's lifetime exposure to UV radiation can occur by the age of 18.

How often should we have our eyes tested, as adults and children?

A healthy adult should have their eyes tested every two years, once you are over 70 or have a family history of eye problems then normally it is an annual check. Children tend to range from six months to two years depending on their prescription and the rate of change that can be occurring.

How much is an eye test?

The cost of an eye examination can range, it is a commercial consideration based on the quality and qualification of the staff and how long the appointment lasts. At Rawlings, our private eye examination is £40.00 plus £10 for an optional retinal photograph. We also offer NHS eye examinations.

Round-Up

At what age do we need to start worrying about our eyes?

It is recommended to get your eyes checked from as young as 3. Doing this can mean early detection of any prescription, especially important as children do not necessarily realise that their sight maybe poor. If you notice any behaviour like sitting close to the television or have any concerns, it is always best to get their eyes checked. Plus children get free eye examinations on the NHS.

Yes, we can supply both. Contact lenses are a great option and are available to a vast amount of people. We have patients who wear contacts, as young as 8 years old right up to varifocal wearers who need help for long distance and reading. They can give more freedom than glasses, especially for sport, but socially too. Plus with technology improving all the time, they are the most comfortable they have ever been. And if you wondered, no, a contact lens cannot get lost behind your eye!

What do you like doing when you are not at work? Do you live locally and what do you like about Hedge End?

When I am not at work, I am a dad to my teenage son. I enjoy running and I have taken part in charity events such as the Southsea Great South Run. I also play and organise football matches most weeks. Most days I will also find time to practice guitar. I live locally and find Hedge End to be a friendly and vibrant town with a very good selection of local shops and services.

1ST HEDGE END BOYS' BRIGADE DUKE OF EDINBURGH'S AWARDS

Carnival News

Hedge End Carnival Committee Report

The first Saturday in July means only one thing in Hedge End. It is time for the carnival, when the whole town comes together for its great festival of fun...

At least that is the plan. What makes carnival so special is that you can take part and the more people who take part the better it gets. The Carnival Committee only make sure that the procession can take place and arrange for special attractions, such as bands and this year the New Male Majorettes are coming all the way from Devizes. The rest of it is over to you!

It is not difficult to take part. All you need is a costume and a smile and, if you get together with friends or family, it gets even more fun. Whether you stick to being a walking entry, or go the whole hog and make a decorated tableau on a lorry, you will have helped the people of Hedge End to have their best day of the year.

The theme is "All Things Bright & Beautiful" but it is optional. If you prefer to do something else, please do, after all it is your carnival. Entry forms are on the carnival website - www.hedgeendcarnival.org.uk

One of the purposes of your carnival is to raise money to support good causes in Hedge End. If you are not taking part, we ask that you give generously. The street collection often does not cover the cost of putting on the procession and having to cancel the Firework Fiesta last year means that the carnival coffers are already low.

Remember to come along to the Gala Show at Greta Park as well. The main attraction in the arena this year will be a Falconry Display. There is an admission charge of £1 per adult to cover costs.

In order for carnival day to run smoothly we require people to help and we always need more. If you can possibly spare a couple of hours to help, please contact the Carnival Committee. The tasks are not onerous and there is no long term commitment.

The Carnival Committee organise a week of activities leading up to the big day -

Quiz on Monday evening, 29 June. You must book in advance to avoid being turned away at the door because the "House Full" sign is a common sight at a carnival Quiz Night.

Whist Drive on Tuesday afternoon, 30 June. And on Tuesday evening a new event for you to enjoy... Scavenger Hunt - Starting from the village centre. We hope to see you there.

Dog Show - On Wednesday 1 July. Held at Greta Park. There are lots of classes to suit every sort of dog. The show schedule is on the carnival website. Children's Sports - at the same time and place as the Dog Show, the Children's Sports will be under way. These are totally free and there may even be some prizes.

Bingo - On Thursday 2 July the usual Bingo session at the Village Hall becomes Carnival Bingo.

We thank Botleigh Products for delivering the carnival programme to your home inside the Hedge End & Botley Courier and Richmond's Estate Agents for generously paying for the programme to be printed.

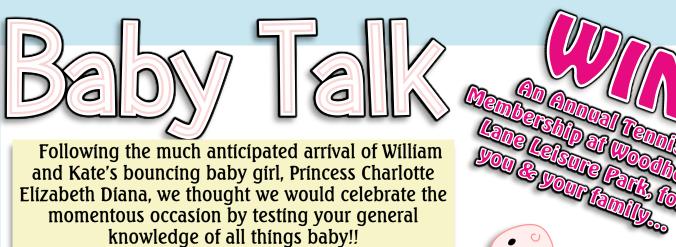

If you missed yours or just want to know more about the carnival and all the other events check out the carnival website - www.hedgeendcarnival.org.uk you will find it now has a new look, courtesy of Crucial PC.

Happy Carnival!
